

Update on North Fork by Two Timber sale

Updated Feb. 11, 2011—Jason Glenn from the Stillwater State Forest recently provided an update and some additional information about the North Fork by Two Timber Sale. Richard George, the contractor finished this week and has moved his equipment out. Site preparation/clean-up activities including slashing, piling and scarification are scheduled for summer of 2011. The Moose section may be evaluated for planting depending on the level of natural regeneration that occurs. George was contractually obligated to complete the north side of Moose section by July 30, 2011. The contract termination dates for the south side of the Moose section and the entire Mud Lake section unit was October 15, 2011. Glenn was asked whether or not the proceeds from the clearing of this DNRC-managed land were earmarked for a special purpose. Glenn responded that in general proceeds from these sales go to the trust beneficiary on whose section the forest products are harvested. In the case of North Fork by Two Timber Sale, proceeds for the Moose and Mud Lake sections go to the Common Schools trust. The Environmental Assessment for the North Fork by Two Timber Sale was started in 2007 and completed and signed in March 2008. Richard George Logging purchased the timber sale in January of 2009. The Sale encompasses 426 acres in the Moose Creek Section (S36 T36N R22W) and 113 acres in the Mud Lake Section (S16 T37N R22W). The total estimated sale volume is 13, 374 tons of sawlogs (approximately 1.9 Million board feet). The termination date for the sale is October 15, 2011.
